

Post Roe

For decades, here in the Triad, we have responded to the call of Christ to nurture life. Room At The Inn operates housing and programs for single, pregnant women and single mothers with children from anywhere in NC, suffering from homelessness offering them opportunities to have new lives of healthy, hope-filled independence.

Room At The Inn

With the recent Supreme Court decision, we are now in a new situation where what we do at the local level is even more important than ever. It is time to prove that we are pro-life not just pro-birth as they say.

What are our next steps?

Expand our support to mothers after they've had their babies by building for the future. Our new facility will provide the physical space needed for us to:

- Provide even more housing opportunities for single moms and their children through our St. Joseph's Housing program
- Start a new job-training program to provide career development and entry level training positions for new mothers
- Greatly expand our parenting, educational and life skills programs for new mothers
- Provide on-site childcare for the new mom while she learns and works

How can the Knights of Columbus help?

While we will not be launching our Capital Campaign officially until next year, we are currently looking for seed funds for the project. As the Supreme Council has announced it's ASAP (Aid and Support After Pregnancy) initiative, we thought now would be a great time for you to help financially. For every $500 your council or assembly donates to a pregnancy resource center or a maternity home (up to $2,000), the Supreme Council will donate $100.
